

Falling in Love With An Irreplaceable Man

Do you want to date a man like Alan Nicolaisen in Enchanted Silence? Do you want to fall in love with a man who cares for you so deeply? A man who accepts the real you so wholeheartedly that he brings out your absolute best? I know I do!

In my blog and articles, I endeavor to be as honest and authentic as I can. I am human and I have moments where I can be dramatic and let my fears and anxieties come in my way. I go through challenging experiences and feel I'll fall apart. I love sharing these experiences with you because you may be going through a similar experience. After all, I am just like you. I want to move forward with beauty and flow in my life even during challenging times.

I am a private individual and generally do not discuss my personal life openly, but I want to share some personal experiences I've gone through in my pursuit of love. I've dated men who were not right for me and instead of bringing out my best, I felt insecure and unworthy. At the time, I didn't realize it, but perhaps I stayed in those relationships because I was not connected to my heart-driven inner voice.

For a great part of this year I focused on healing and loving myself. I wanted to blast through all my fears this year, so I could create a brand new life, including my romantic life. This led me to really question and think about what I wanted in the love of my life.

After blasting through my fears and creating a life driven by what I love, I've now realized the most important qualities I'd like in the love of my life. I am inspired to share them with you and hope you find them equally helpful.

- ✓ Do You Have Stimulating Conversation With Him? Looks and physical chemistry are important, but only to an extent. To truly connect with a man, having playful, stimulating conversation is an important dynamic to consider. You can learn and gauge a lot about a man through your conversations with him. Once the initial attraction subsides, can you still have crackling chemistry through a conversation? Can you express your emotions comfortably to him? Can he do the same to you? Can you reveal your deepest fears to him? Can you laugh with him and be silly?

- ✓ Do You Have Chemistry/Physical Attraction With Him? I have gone on dates where I have felt no chemistry or physical attraction at all. Other times, I have felt an electrifying chemistry and couldn't wait to spend every second with him.

This sizzling chemistry is something you cannot force and neither does having this guarantee your relationship with him is going to blossom into everlasting love. Physical chemistry can exist without growing into love, but love cannot exist and grow without this intense attraction.

- ✓ Do You Have Fun With Him? When you are spending time with your irreplaceable man, does it feel like time swooshes by way too fast? Gauge how much fun you are having with him. I cannot emphasize enough to ensure you have fun in any situation with him.

Make sure you feel comfortable to be your real self around him and simply feel excited to be with him. The best dates I've had were unplanned where we kicked back and watched a movie. I would look at him and he would look at me and without a single word uttered, we would burst into laughter. I felt free like a child again.

When I felt I could be silly around him, I was comfortable to just be myself and express myself in a healthy manner in my relationship.

- ✓ Does He Support You and Bring Out Your Best? The irreplaceable man understands and respects you have a life and set of ambitions and desires separate from him. In fact, he will encourage you and be your personal cheerleader. I used to be with someone who showed no interest in my writing and instead occasionally called me "stupid" jokingly.

It may have been a joke to him, but clearly I felt closed off and not comfortable to express my passion for writing which is obviously a huge part of my life. In my present relationship, he can't wait to hear about my writing adventures. He once told me out of the blue that he was proud of me for following my dream of writing a novel. I was stunned. I was not used to this kind of response.

An irreplaceable man revels in seeing you realize your highest potential and wants to see you deeply fulfilled.

- ✓ Can You Trust Him & Express Your Emotions to Him? Being confident and in control of your life's ship is wonderful, but many times, confident woman can have trouble expressing themselves. They are afraid of revealing their vulnerabilities and emotions. Maybe they feel they will come across as weak to the man or not sure if they can trust him. I am definitely guilty in this as well. Gauge whether you can trust him with revealing your emotions. An irreplaceable man will love you for your emotions and vulnerabilities.

Earlier this year, I was going through a deeply challenging experience. My hands had started shaking uncontrollably and an intense wave of nervous energy had washed over me. I had deliberated for a long time whether I should call him to be by my side.

I was embarrassed and scared. But finally I did and he rushed over and comforted me gently. This healthy interaction brought a whole new beauty and level of intimacy and trust into our relationship.

- ✓ Do You have Enchanted Silence with Him? You feel a peaceful, magical silence with an irreplaceable man. You won't feel the need to fill the silence. Instead the moment will feel perfect and calm.

You could feel this enchanted silence anywhere - while you are holding hands, stealing lingering glances at one another at a party, or just sitting together on the sofa! You enjoy his company without overanalyzing or worrying what he is thinking.

All you know during this enchanting silence is that you are happy. Just really happy.

Asking yourself these questions will help you find an irreplaceable man who supports you in realizing your highest potential. And remember to do the same for your man! Happy Manifesting an Irreplaceable Man! ☺
